Miito

Small bits of uninteresting journeys in my life.

Some updates here. It's been a while. I finally got the time to update this theme that I've been working on for a couple of months before I went on hiatus.

— 14 hours ago

Well, yeah, I messed up. I deactivated a physics mod and now my trucks have gone flying like a bird. I destroyed the whole cargo. To cancel the job, I need $18,000 and I only have $15,000. I'm done for.

Edit

On to the products page when you are logged in as a user you will see a button appeared on the products page as show below.

When you press on the 'Create new product' button you will be redirected to a page to create your first project. There you will be given a form and have to fill in some basic information. Note: the input field 'doebedrag' only allows numbers. When you create a new product you will be redirected to the detail page we spoke about earlier. The detail page should look something like shown below.

On this page you have a number of functions if you are the creator of this project. To start off you can get a list view of your donors (1) automatically the last 4 donations will be shown on the page itself but to keep it clean the rest will be displayed on the list page. Secondly you have the option to add a picture to your project (2), you will also have the option to edit and/or delete your project (3) as you will notice you will have a yellow-ish block on the right side this is the 'In de kijker' (4) function. Before you want this to work you will have to follow the steps explained within this block but to keep it simple to activate this function you will need to add an image to your project which will also be shown on the detail page to you and other users who visit. After you add an image the detail page will look like the picture below.

You will see that the yellow-ish block now is blue and the function is unlocked. With this function you can put your project in the spotlight. What this means is for the price of 200 credits your project will be featured on the homepage for 7days like shown below.

Not only will this attract more people to your project but you will have a better chance to receive fundings and that is one of our next functions I will be talking about. As we can see on the picture below there are some more features on the detail pages which will show themselves if you are not the creator of the product. One of these features is the comment feature where you can leave a review or comment on your experiences with the product.

The other one is the funding option which I will explain on the next page

The funding system is pretty straight forward after buying enough credits ( min 20 ) you will have the option to donate to other users their projects. When this happens your name, the amount you gave and the timestamp will be show in the donate function on the detail page for the creator to see. The creator can based on this list give the users a reward in return but he / she is not obligated to do so. The funding system is put toghester in a way that 90% of the funded credits will be given to the project these will be added to the project creators wallet. The other 10% will be going to the admin of the site for maintain purposes.

GUIDE

To start of the Deployment guide you will have to go to <https://github.com/gdm-1718-owendewa/DownThePlan>

and either download the zip file or clone it into your github desktop.

You can follow the deployment guide in the Readme.md file or down below

DownThePlan

After you downloaded the folder or cloned it go the main folder in our case ,Eindwerk_WebDev2 and install composer locally or globally if do not have composer installed go to <https://getcomposer.org/download/> and follow the steps.

or if you want a quick install in the current directory (preferably the main folder) run.

php -r "copy('https://getcomposer.org/installer', 'composer-setup.php');"
php -r "if (hash_file('sha384', 'composer-setup.php') === '48e3236262b34d-30969dca3c37281b3b4bbe3221bda826ac6a9a62d6444cdb0dc0615698a5cbe587c3f0fe57a54d8f5') { echo 'Installer verified'; } else { echo 'Installer corrupt'; unlink('composer-setup.php'); } echo PHP_EOL;"
```

```
php composer-setup.php
```

```
php -r "unlink('composer-setup.php');"

After you installed composer either locally or globally you will create a .env file in the main folder. After you created this copy paste the following code in that file.

// your public and secret Stripe key paste them in order down below

STRIPE_KEY={your stripe public key}

STRIPE_SECRET={your stripe secret key}

CREDIT_RATIO=0.05

..

After you copied this add all the required info (links to stripe and mailgun site included).

Your database will have to be linked aswell

If you created your database and linked it you can import the database.sql file into to your database.

This database will have a few basic pages with content and an admin user with the info AdminUser@test.be and pass: 123456789 or make a new user the admin and delete this one.

After you've done this you can and start the app by going into the main file in your terminal or other CLI-tool and run the command `php artisan serve` this will start up a server on the given host based on your `.env` file.

After that you can open a new terminal and use this project to start your own application.
